NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

Something for everyone on Law Day in Wayne

There was something for everyone, from senior to teenager, on Law Day in Wayne.

Celebrated on May 1 nationally to recognize those who are charged with the administering of justice in our society and the importance of jurisprudence in a civilized society, Law Day - 2001 in Wayne was marked by a wide range of activities, including a mock trial.

The program is cosponsored by the 29th District Court and the Wayne Senior Activities Center.

The hosts for the Law Day program included Judge Carolyn Archbold, of the 29th District Court, and her staff, as well as Nancy Wojewski-Noel, executive director of the Senior Activity Center, and her office staff.

Among those who addressed the gathering included D.A.R.E. Police Officer Rob Puckett who offered tips on personal safety. (D.A.R.E. is an acronym for Drug Abuse Resistance Education).

Cathy Broge, of the Racquet and Exercise Club, and Rich Parker of the Aquatic Center, along with Wojewski-Noel, discussed senior programs available to residents of Wayne, and stressed the importance of participating in a program.

Other speakers included Barbara Jablonski, Diane Dorey and Marge Wisniewski.

The budding actors - all seeking multi-million contracts with MGM (or any other movie or TV mogul) - took part in a Mock Trial that involved a 'Judge Silly' who was accused and charged with violating the Judicial Canons of Ethics (in this case there were no ethics) by having an affair with "Prisoner/Attorney who (before being sent to prison for hiring a hit man to do away with his sweet loving wife of 20 years) was an attorney. (This does sound familiar, like something we read somewhere).

Anyway, the cast of thousands included: Sgt. Don Gotham, Mayor Pro Tem Pam Dobrowolski, Councilman Al Haidous, Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Margaret Rynier, Ross Wenzel, Assistant City Attorney John McKinney, Lauren Wenzel, Judge Archbold, Attorney Matt Catchick and Councilwoman Donna McEachern.

Sorry, can't tell you how the case ended. We ran out of space.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF INKSTER

MCN Special Writer

Some 17 presidents have come and gone in Helen Slack's lifetime, a lifetime filled with love, family, and friendships.

Helen, who recently celebrated her 100th birthday with her family and friends, also has enjoyed a long and healthy life. She now resides at Chateau Cherry Hill in Inkster.

Mrs. Slack and her husband, Fred, now deceased, moved to CCH in July, 1971, when a bedroom apartment was only $103 a month to rent. They enjoyed their time there playing cards, and shuffleboard, and traveling.

After Fred's death in 1976, Helen remained at Chateau Cherry Hill, a place, she says, she had grown to love.

Her favorite food, would you believe is Coney Dogs and Hershey bars? Her favorite color is pink, and her special dish to make is mashed potatoes and gravy.

The Chateau Cherry Hill staff and residents love Helen, and they take special delight in sitting and talking to a centenarian, who has seen so much.

Helen has a large family which includes seven children, 21 grandchildren, 34 great grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

Family members attending the special celebration included daughters Nancy Scott and her husband, Jay Scott; Elinore Ryan, and Delores Mosser and her husband, Frederick Mosser, and a grandson, Matt Scott.

The guests were treated to a delicious lunch prepared by the hosting staff of Chateau Cherry Hill.

Happy Birthday, Helen. May you enjoy many more fruitful years.

'River Day' volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed to help clean-up the Rouge River.

Muzaffar Lakhani, Inkster's Director of the Department of Public Services, announced last week that the department hopes to enlist volunteers for the annual clean-up of the river.

The event this year is dubbed "River Day."

"Each year we manage to get scores of volunteers to assist us in removing debris from the river banks and the river, and we know that this year won't be an exception.

"We're urging citizens to join as at the targeted area," Lakhani added.

"River Day" will be celebrated in the city of Inkster, and in those cities that share the river, on Saturday, June 2. Inkster volunteers are requested to gather at 8 a.m. at the designated clean-up site, east of the City Hall, on South River Drive.

For more details, residents are asked to contact the DPS offices at 563-9773.

Churches strive for harmony

"Striving for Harmony" has been selected as the theme for the Inkster Summerfest "2001" annual Prayer Breakfast.

The breakfast and sermon will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 26, at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road, Inkster.

The Rev. Joseph Stephens, pastor at New Birth Baptist Church, has been invited to address the gathering.

The breakfast and sermon will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 26, at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road, Inkster.

Also, the New Birth Baptist Mass Choir, will perform during the event.

The suggested donation is $8. Program proceeds will be donated to the College Scholarship Fund. Contact Ruth E. Williams, chairperson, at 734-728-7530 for further information.

Program coordinator is Theola Jones. Jones may be reached at 313-561-3918.

The benefits of full competition are coming to Michigan.

Right now, consumers in Kansas, New York, Oklahoma and Texas enjoy the benefits of full competition while Michiganians do not.

On May 9, Ameritech Michigan took the first step toward correcting that disparity when it notified the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) of its intent to file a request for entry into Michigan's long-distance market.

If our application is approved by the MPSC and then by the Federal Communications Commission, Michiganians will realize the same benefits of full competition that Kansans, New Yorkers, Oklahomans and Texans already enjoy, including: increased competition, not only for long-distance but for local service, "one-stop shopping," and expanded services.

The new telecommunications marketplace ushered in by the approval of our application will finally force long-distance giants like AT&T, Sprint and WorldCom to compete with Ameritech and other local service providers to offer a full range of services — long-distance and local calling, Internet, wireless and more.

Ameritech stands ready to bring Michiganians the expanded choices, competitive prices and one-stop shopping that millions of other Americans already enjoy.

Sincerely,
Diane L. Webb

Squabble over parking tax has Rep. Patterson attempting to mend fences

House Majority Floor Leader Bruce Patterson (R-Canton) is walking a tightrope. House Bill 4454, of which he is the major sponsor, would eliminate the 30% airport parking tax at Metro Airport.

The tax was initially implemented in 1987. At the time Wayne County was strapped financially and concocted the tax on airport parking to help them out. Thus all lots within five miles of the airport were ordered to pay. The county was to get 70% and Romulus where the great majority of the lots were located, was to get 30%. Rep. Patterson and others feel the tax has served its purpose.

On the surface, the elimination of any tax should strike a favorable chord with most voters. This particular tax provides $16.5 million to Wayne County's burgeoning coffers. Few of us care if a few dollars is cut from their billion dollar budget.

But, here's the rub. The City of Romulus gets $1,200,000 a year from this tax. That "cool million," which represents 8% of the city's budget, if lost, will mean the City will have to put the hammer down on several budgeted items.

Needless to say, Mayor Oakley and the city administration are not happy with the bill, which by the way, passed the House easily in a March vote. They have been adamantly, and vocally, opposed to any change in the way they get revenues from the excise tax.

Rep. Patterson, however, says his intent, all along, has been to get more money for the City of Romulus. He claims he sent a letter to Mayor Oakley outlining his strategy last July that would provide more monies for Romulus, and less for the County. Mayor Oakley claims he never received the letter.

Whether Oakley received the letter or not, Rep. Patterson has taken a lot of heat for a "bill" that appears to be "dissing" a city he once represented. At a "coffee" held last week, Wayne resident Mark Blackwell and others verbally sparred with Rep. Patterson over his intentions with the tax elimination.

However, in a private meeting with city officials last week, Rep. Patterson again reiterated his strategy to get more, not less, money for the City. His bill, he said, would never eliminate the entire tax—but was a negotiating tool to reduce the overall amount collected by the County. He promised to amend, or substitute a new bill in the House that would increase the amount of money Romulus would get from the tax.

Whether Rep. Patterson is true to his word or not, Romulus has to be concerned about the monies derived from the tax. If nothing happens, the addition of 20,000 new parking spaces at the airport (from which Romulus receives no revenues) will likely pull heavily from the private lots on Merriman. If that is the case that $1.2 million will be reduced substantially.

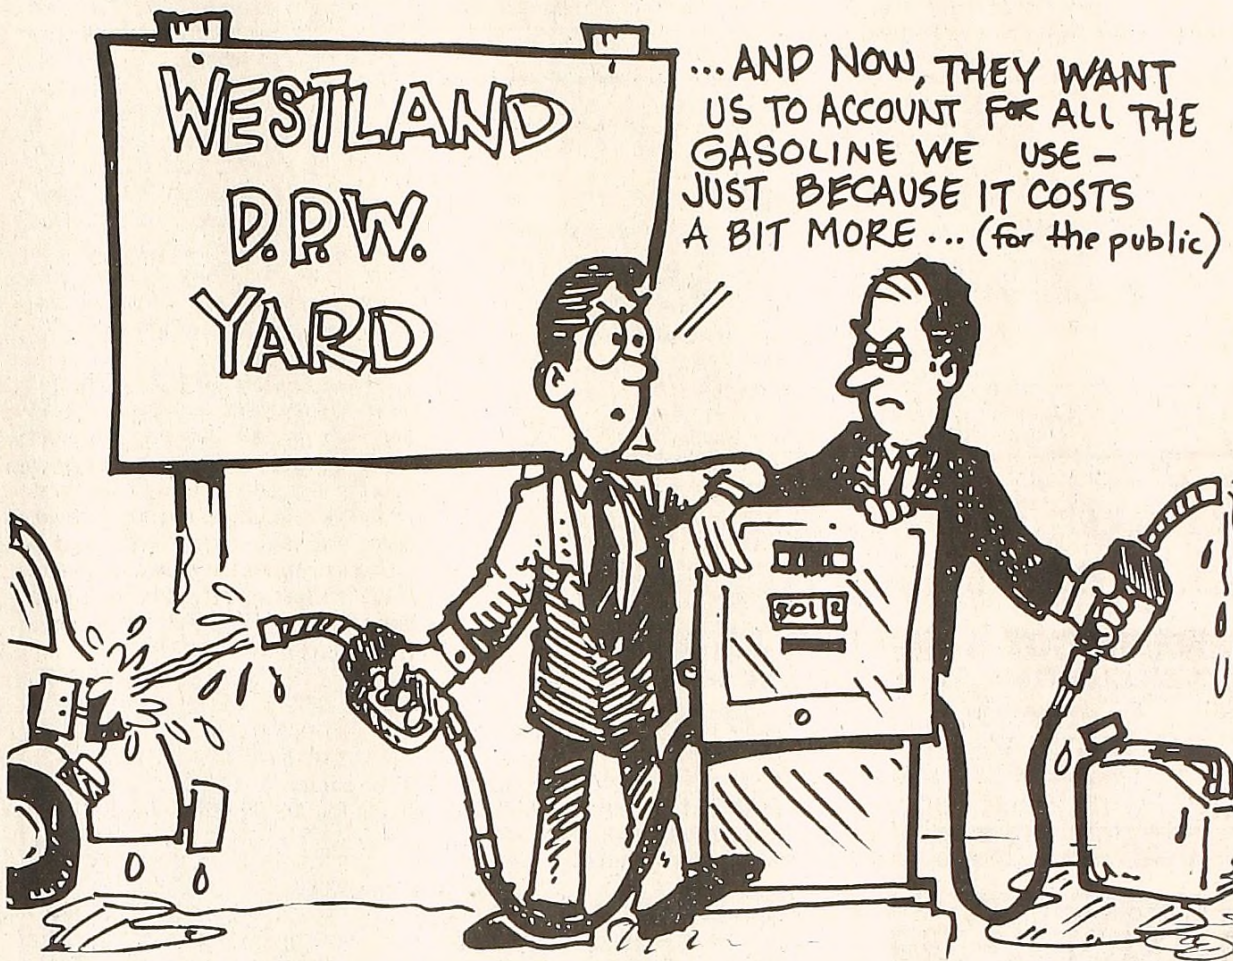

Stay tuned on this issue. Can Rep. Patterson pull tricks out of a bag and get Romulus more money, or will reduced city services and possible layoffs be in the City's future?

Will the new on-site parking structures claim longtime customers from the Merriman lots or will the private parking vendors continue to thrive? Answers probably won't be available until this time next year, but when they are, I hope the City of Romulus is prepared to make the necessary budgetary adjustments.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Can we catch a falling star?

Like many of you, I never bought a Perry Como record.

Como, who died Saturday in Florida at the age of 87 or 88 (sources differ), was considered the ultimate square by my generation, which grew up listening to rock-and-roll in the 1950s and 1960s.

A pleasant baritone who crooned in the style of Bing Crosby, he seemed outdated after his label, RCA Victor, issued Elvis Presley's "Heartbreak Hotel" in 1956.

Perhaps the low point of Como's career came during the high point of the early rock-and-roll era, when he recorded "Ko Ko Mo," his first and last rock-and-roll recording. "Dig Perry in action on a great rock-and-roll record," urged RCA in the ads that preceded the release.

But rock-and-roll fans weren't digging, and Perry returned to novelty songs and ballads, such as "Hoop-Dee-Do," "Wanted," and "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes."

Yet for all Como's squareness, he had more number one hits and sold more records than Elvis in the 1950s; had his own hit TV show; and began broadcasting a series of Christmas specials that many Americans cherished for decades.

More remarkably, his tunes morphed into the sound track of the early fifties, much like the Anderson Sisters' tunes in the World War II years or Benny Goodman's did in the late thirties.

Just as I can't separate the thirties from Goodman's version of "Sing, Sing, Sing," the forties from Crosby and the Anderson Sisters' "Accentuate the Positive," I can't separate the fifties from Como's "Catch a Falling Star," a cut on the first album to receive a golden record.

This was the song that many newscasters played when they announced Como's death. It begins

Ivan Helfman

"Catch a falling star/and put it in your pocket/save it for a rainy day" sung to a tune so catchy that I haven't been able to get it out of mind.

It also got me to thinking about how much popular taste has changed from Como's day to Eminem's.

In Como's heyday, the music industry still catered to adults, not exclusively to teenagers. Except for novelty songs, like Como's "Hot Diggity (Dog Ziggity Boomy)," pop song lyrics tended to be better, sometimes more poetic, especially the standards, and often required skilled singers with beautiful voices and wide vocal ranges. Back then, Britney Spears or Madonna would have been on the dance floor, not at the microphone. In Sync would have been out of sync. Gangster rappers would have been under police surveillance or behind bars.

Viewers of Ken Burns's Jazz couldn't help but notice that the level of musicianship in the thirties, forties and early fifties was generally much higher. The better bands, which survived on their arrangements of standards, often had soloists, such as trumpeter Louis Armstrong or his pianist Earl Hines, whose virtuosity matched or exceeded the best classical performers.

Music was not only more polished and sophisticated, it was generally more uplifting or romantic. Neither obscene nor violent lyrics had drifted into the mainstream (though that started to change in 1951, when the Dominoes' "Sixty Minute Man," a doowop song, became a Billboard pop hit).

Why public taste changed is a puzzle for historians and sociologists. But the question of whether to turn it back or accelerate the trend towards cruder and more violent songs is a question for all of us.

While few of us admit to liking crude songs, many of us buy them. Record sales for jazz, folk, and classical music are shrinking.

Como, of course, has nothing to do with this. He was just from a different generation.

One of thirteen children born to an Italian immigrant in a coal mining town near Pittsburgh, Pa., he became a singing barber at the age of 14. When the Great Depression squeezed his earnings, he became a big band singer and took to the road.

In 1943, he signed a record contract with RCA, which continued for 50 years.

In 1950, his weekly variety show debuted on television. The first singer to fully grasp the nature of television, his show lasted 13 years, carrying him past Elvis's glory years and into the Beatles' era.

All of a sudden, a new generation, which had grown up with television in the richest country in history had no use for a child of the Great Depression, his cardigan sweaters, or his old-fashioned music.

At some point in time, tastes had shifted. For me, the day Perry Como's star fell marks the point where crude and violent lyrics and music replaced polished and gentle ones.

Of course, the questions remain: Have we shifted too? Are we a cruder and more violent people?

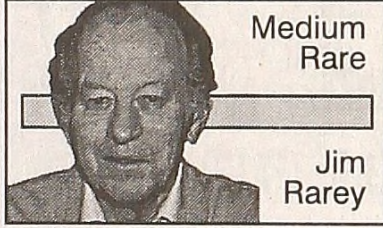

If so, let us hope that we caught Como's falling star, put it in our pockets, and saved it for a rainy day. Because if we have turned into a more cruder and violent nation, then that rainy day is here.

Property condemnations coming

We should have known it was coming. Several years ago the voters approved the false alternative of an increase in the sales tax (as opposed to an increased income tax) in conjunction with a temporary reduction of property taxes under Proposal A. Now the legislature is set to expand the state's revenue from the sales tax.

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan State Senate (SB433) that could open the door to unlimited sales taxes in cooperation with other states. The bill was introduced by all five members of the Senate Finance Committee. It was then assigned to that committee and, not surprisingly, was reported out favorably (with a substitute) by a unanimous vote.

The Finance Committee comprises three Republicans (Joanne Emmons of Big Rapids, Bill Bullard of Highland and Valde Garcia of St. Johns) and two Democrats (Gary Peters of Bloomfield Township and Diane Byrum of Onondaga).

Medium Rare

Jim Rarey

The bill would create a board with the authority to negotiate and enter into an agreement with other states on the collection of Sales and Use taxes. The ostensible purpose is to make that collection easier and more uniform for both sellers and state governments. However, two provisions in the bill betray what is probably the real goal.

One provision would require states signing the agreement (including Michigan) to "Eliminate caps on the amount of state tax that is due on a transaction." The second requires "Eliminating thresholds on the application of state tax."

To users of the Internet, that second provision could significantly cantly raise their costs as it would allow states to tax Internet services (as opposed to taxes on goods sold on the Internet). Although the Congress has in place a temporary ban on new Internet taxes, efforts to make the ban permanent have so far been unsuccessful.

To add insult to potential injury, the bill prohibits any person from challenging in court any interpretation of sales and use tax regulations on the grounds it conflicts with the interstate agreement.

The board to oversee all of this would be composed of four members; one appointed by the majority leader of the Senate, one by the Speaker of the House, one by the Governor, and the State Treasurer or his designee.

The bill appears to be on a fast track in the senate and may well be voted on this week. It would still have to be passed in the House and signed by the Governor.

School bullying gets out of hand

To the editor:

All too often the school bullying gets too far out of hand when children brought into hospitals or clinics for physical abuse by other students are providing visible evidence of those assaults by way of bruises, lacerations, head and facial trauma, teeth knocked out, swollen and tender areas all over their bodies from being kicked and punched, thrown down, etc. Often times the children are scared to open up and share information for fear of reprisal.

Some of the most newsworthy stories do get reported such as a case of a West Bloomfield student several years ago who had over 30 documented troublemaking incidents attributed to him that year, cumulated his reign of terror that spring with an assault in the high school parking lot on a teenager whose head landed on a parking curb resulting in the victim being paralyzed; and a Walled Lake High School student recently assaulted and choked, with the result being head trauma leaving a pool of blood on the floor (the school did not call for an ambulance and the assailant continued on the wrestling team). River Rouge High School student football players accused of raping another student played on the team the weekend following the reported incident last year; the case of the Northville mother, Robin Zaas trying for several months to have the school stop the bullying of her daughter; and and lastly the recent tragedy in the Lincoln Park Schools where teasing and harassment drove one sensitive girl too far, to the point where her only viable escape was through suicide.

Why are the assailants not separated from the other students?

What is going on in the schools?

Why are truly dangerous bullies allowed to continue terrorizing other students this way? Why are the assailants not separated from the other students? We would not allow this to go on in any other segment of our society. Surely there must be something more that schools can do so that we do not have to witness young lives being destroyed.

Schools must be responsible for providing a safe environment in which kids can concentrate on learning, not trying to avoid physical assaults by bullies. Schools who fail to protect students should be held liable for their inaction and should be proactive in preventing problems before they start. Our children deserve better.

LETTER

Pollution,
no! Well, si!

To the editor:

I just read the Roman and had no idea that we had so many contaminated sites in Romulus!

Why has the Romulus City Council ignored these sites and concentrated on spending our tax dollars to fight the well? What could these people have been thinking? Over $1,000,000 to fight a project approved by the USEPA and State of Michigan instead of cleaning up our City?

There's something wrong here!

Split decision: Wayne-Westland baseball title is in limbo

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

For five hours, Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn swung it out to decide who'll own the 2001 bragging rights in baseball in the Wayne-Westland Community School District.

When the smoke cleared, there was no clear cut decision on which had the better team this year. No one was left standing.

With Adam Zimmerman on the mound, Wayne flogged Glenn, 13-3, in the first game, but coach Todd Duffield and the Rockets roared back and shut out their natural rivals, 10-0, behind Kyle Rutkowski's five-hitter in the second of the twin bill.

The split decision leaves the district's baseball trophy at Glenn for six-months; Wayne gets it after that.

"I think we were both surprised at the outcome of this doubleheader," said Duffield, referring to his colleague at Wayne, Tom Wakefield. "They stunned us in the first game, but we shot ourselves in the foot. We made five errors.

"In the second game, we turned everything around."

Wayne immediately put losing pitcher Nate Campbell in a hole by scoring seven runs in the opening inning. The Zebras went up, 11-2, after two. and that really took the suspense out of the game.

Adam See and Pat Barter teamed up for six of Wayne's nine hits. See was a perfect three for three, including a double. He also was hit by a wild pitch and scored three times. Barter's contribution included two singles, a double and 4 RBIs.

Glenn collected a single and double from Josh Day, while Will Massey also came through with two singles.

In the nightcap, the Westlanders erupted for six runs in the top of the fourth and added four more in the sixth to rout their rivals. Rutkowski, who got the victory, struck out five and walked none.

Glenn's Brandon Ajlouny accounted for three runs batted in on a double and sacrifice fly. Joe Cichowski's fourth-inning single drove in a pair of runs and Dave Mijal also singled in two runs.

Glenn started the week by making it two straight over Western Lakes, Lakes' foe, Plymouth-Salem. Ajlouny beat the Rocks, 10-1, as he twirled a four-hitter, struck out five but walked six.

Kevin O'Beirne, who pitched six complete innings, gave up 11 hits, one a third inning solo homer to Jeff Koslowski. He was charged with 10 runs.

Koslowski also singled and drove in three runs.

Rutkowski added two singles and a double and two runs batted in. Rick Verville also drilled two singles for the winners.

The Rockets continued their momentum against Livonia Churchill. Julian Fraser collected the 8-6 win in relief of Rutkowski.

Rutkowski left the game after 2 1/3 innings when a line drive hit the Glenn starter in his pitching hand. Fraser took over and worked 4 2/3 innings, struck out two and walked an equal number.

Dave Mijal led a 15-hit Rocket assault against losing pitcher Jason Dominas, who lasted four innings before he left for the dugout. Mijal hammered a solo homer in the fourth and also latched on to three singles in a four-for-four day.

Cichowski, a sophomore, bagged two singles, and Verville, along with Day, each contributed two singles.

The downer for Glenn last week was a 6-1 setback handed to them by conference frontrunner, Farmington. Farmington jumped on Mijal for three runs in the first and added three more in the third to seal the victory.

Farmington's Tony Luttmann notched seven strikeouts and walked none for the win.

The Westlanders entered the week with a 3-4 Western Lakes record and will travel to North Farmington on Friday after entertaining Livonia Stevenson (Monday) and Plymouth-Canton (Wednesday).

Vikings continue to struggle

While the rest of the high school track & field world prepare to test their strengths (and weaknesses) at regional meets across the state this week, Inkster will stay at home to contemplate its future.

Ineligible to compete in post-season anything because of alleged MHSAA infractions, stemming from ineligibility of players a year ago, the boys and girls' track team will wrap up the 2001 season May 23 with the Mega-Gold Conference Championship.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association, an agency that has the last-word on prep eligibility in Michigan, has no jurisdiction over league play.

"I have several athletes who have qualified to compete in the regional if we were eligible," said first-year Inkster Coach Eugene Thomas. "Unfortunately, due to past transgressions, our team and athletes remain ineligible for post season competition. But we will be ready next year."

Inkster's girls' track team, losers to Romulus, 91-23, in their last Mega-Gold encounter, has several outstanding candidates, specifically, Sandra Holdslaw, Shamika Langston, Latonya Redd, Deedee Murphy, Dominique Whitner and Carena Easley who could make waves at the regional.

In the loss to the Eagles, Inkster's 400-meter relay team of Holdslaw, Langston, Murphy and Redd finished with the winning time of 55.6. Easley won the high jump competition, and Whitner led the field of quarter-milers. She was clocked in 1:05.2 for the 400-meters.

Inkster's boys' track team lost to Willow Run, 76-10, also in a Mega-Gold contest.

At the Lansing Waverly Invitational, the Vikings managed to cash in on Holdslaw's 13.2 performance in the 100-meters for a seventh place. At the University of Detroit High Invitational, the 400-meter relay of Holdslaw, Tiffany Smith, Latonya Redd and Langston was sixth (56.09), while the 800-meter team of Langston, Easley, Holdslaw and Smith also wound up in sixth place (1:58.1).

Inkster was scheduled to end the dual meet season Tuesday night against Redford Thurston.

Sign of the times

Romulus High Track & Field Coach Norb Glover (at right) and Band Director Henry James are all smiles over their teams' achievements. The two veteran educators display a sign that announces Romulus is the Michigan 2000 Division II Track & Field state champ, a title they will have to defend soon. Also, the sign reveals that Romulus's bands over the past 28 years have wound up as First Division winners. To reach those goals, it takes commitment and dedication by students, school, administration, parents and school board.

McAllister gets Romulus hoop coaching position

Rhonda McAllister will get her first shot as a varsity basketball coach, thanks to the Romulus Community School District.

McAllister was hired to replace coach Ron Bayes, who stepped down as head coach at Romulus High School earlier this year. Bayes has been with the program for more than a dozen years, and the longtime coach said he is stepping down to spend more time with his family.

In McAllister, Romulus has an experienced, energetic and knowledgeable professional.

"She knows the game of basketball," said Jesse L. Meriweather, Romulus High Athletic Director. "Coach McAllister also has excellent communication skills. She is a Social Worker here in the school district. We have all the confidence in the world in her ability to help the program."

An assistant coach at Ladywood High School in Livonia where she was tutored by Andrea Gorski, one of the most successful high school girls' basketball coaches in the state, McAllister said she is very eager to get started as the Eagles' head coach.

"I am looking forward to the challenge," said McAllister, in a Sunday evening telephone interview. "Basketball has a rich tradition here at Romulus and this school has produced some of the finest players in the nation. I hope to help perpetuate the tradition."

The 27-year-old coach who is a Dearborn Divine Child graduate that attended college in North Carolina for two years before receiving her masters in social work from the University of Michigan knows her "X's" and "O's" of basketball.

"I was raised here and, for the past six years, was associated with one of the most successful (basketball) programs around. I am looking forward to the upcoming season."

McAllister said she plans to meet with the team.

She also didn't waste any time getting her program off the ground. McAllister announced that the 2001 Romulus Girls' Basketball Camp, for grades 4 to 12, will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on June 25-29 at the Romulus High School Field House.

The purpose for the camp, McAllister stressed, is "to teach and encourage correct fundamental skills while promoting enthusiasm for the game of basketball. Proper shooting, passing, rebounding, defense and ballhandling techniques will be emphasized."

There is a $40 registration fee.

Prospective participants are asked to send name, address, phone number and t-shirt size before June 10 to Rhonda McAllister, 9650 S. Wayne Road, Romulus, Mich. 48174.

For further information about the hoop camp, coach McAllister may be contacted at 941-2170, extension 182.

Out of title race Romulus High becomes 'spoiler'

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Special Writer

After self-destructing against Dearborn Fordson, Romulus finds itself out of the Mega Conference, Gold Division baseball title race for the first time in three years and in the role of "spoilers" this week.

"We committed seven errors, four in the first inning, and gave up seven runs in the fifth inning," said Coach Keith Brothers after the Tractors crushed Romulus, 15-5. "You just can't win ball games or titles like that."

"The best we can do now is to spoil it for Crestwood."

Crestwood is standing on the doorsteps of its first-ever Mega-Gold Divisional championship. The Chargers will travel to Romulus for a 4 p.m. Friday game, and need the win to remain on top of the division.

Fordson stands in Crestwood's shadows, hoping for a Charger fall.

"They have an excellent team," commented Brothers of his next opponent. "And they know what is at stake."

Romulus had more than its share of problems against Fordson. The Tractors cashed in on the four Romulus errors for five runs in the first inning that put starter and losing pitcher Ryan Block immediately in the hole.

Block, a righthander, worked the first five innings, struck out five and walked four.

"Ryan deserved better than he got," Brothers stressed. "We committed four of those seven errors in the first inning."

Romulus managed to score three runs in the bottom of the second off of winner Sean Nicols, who walked Josh Phillips and Chris Deaton in that inning. After unleashing a wild pitch that moved the base running up, Nicols then threw a fastball at Ron Buckley who immediately laced it into right center for a two-run single. Ricky Rhinehart's sacrifice fly eventually chased Buckley home.

Buckley finished the afternoon with a single and a double. He also walked and had two RBIs.

Romulus did not have any problems with Robichaud, a team it dispatched to Dearborn Heights with a loss, 14-0. The Eagles also defeated Inkster, 19-1, for two Mega-Gold victories. (See related stories on this page.)

Romulus looked good against a highly-touted Garden City ball club. They lost to the Jaguars 4-2 as GC's ace, Justin Ockerman, was forced into action to put out a last-of-the-seventh rally.

In the seventh, Buckley led off with a single, advanced to second when winning pitcher Don Graham walked Melvin Stewart which set the stage of Roger Chapman who singled in two runs.

The gap closed to 4-2.

With Chapman at second, Garden City wasn't taking any chances. Graham was replaced by Ockerman who proceeded to strike out the final two Romulus batters.

"It was a very good game, despite the fact it was also frustrating because we lost it," Brothers said. "If we can ever put it all together, we can play with the best of them."

On Saturday, Romulus did play with the best. A 10-8 victory over host Southfield Lathrup put them into the championship round where the Eagles got a look at the Western Lakes Conference pacesetter, Farmington Hills Harrison.

Harrison stopped Romulus 13-2 to capture the tourney title.

Coming up for the Eagles are the Division I District Playoffs at Taylor Kennedy. Presently five teams have been assigned to the district, including 800-game winner Tom Noland, of Lincoln Park; Belleville, Taylor Truman, Kennedy and Romulus.

A May 29th pre-district will be played to decide the makeup of the final four.

The 2001 district playoffs will begin on Saturday, June 2, at sites designated by the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Robichaud ends skid at Inkster's expense

Johnson gets job done, 12-10

Setting aside all of their off the diamond and on the diamond problems, Robichaud won its first game of the season at the expense of natural rival, Inkster, 12-10, on Monday.

Marcus Johnson, a junior righthander, scattered seven Viking hits, struck out five, to pick up his first win in the Mega-Red Division. Jason Orr was tagged with the loss. The Inkster starter worked the first two innings, gave up four runs, four hits, struck out two and walked three before he handed the ball over to teammate Kentrail Flicking.

"It was an excellent game between two teams whose players didn't want to give up," said Inkster's Jerome Orr. "Both teams really gave it their best."

However, on Friday, Robichaud was no match for Romulus who deflated the Dearborn Heights, 14-0, as Steve Moore posted a no-hitter in an abbreviated game called after five before

of the "mercy rule."

Moore collected five strikeouts and issued three bases on balls.

Romulus pounded Johnson for 10 hits, three of those going to Rog Chapman who had three singles and three RBIs on the day.

The victory lifted the Eagles to a 4-3 record in the Mega-Gold Division.

Earlier in the week, Romulus crushed Inkster 19-1 as Josh Phillips had a perfect 4 for 4 at the plate, including three singles, a double, and three RBIs.

Winning pitcher Alan Brohl helped his cause with two singles, a pair of walks and also scored four times. Brohl pitched a one-hitter, struck out four and didn't allow a Viking on base via a walk.

Inkster's Brandon Dawson was charged with the loss. Dawson also gave up a double and single to Keith Timbrooks.

The Vikings managed to squeeze out a 10-9 victory over out-of-conference opponent, Detroit Communications High, as Reggie Smith tossed a five hitter in picking up his first victory. He had five strikeouts and six walks.

Dawson, Perry, and Flicking

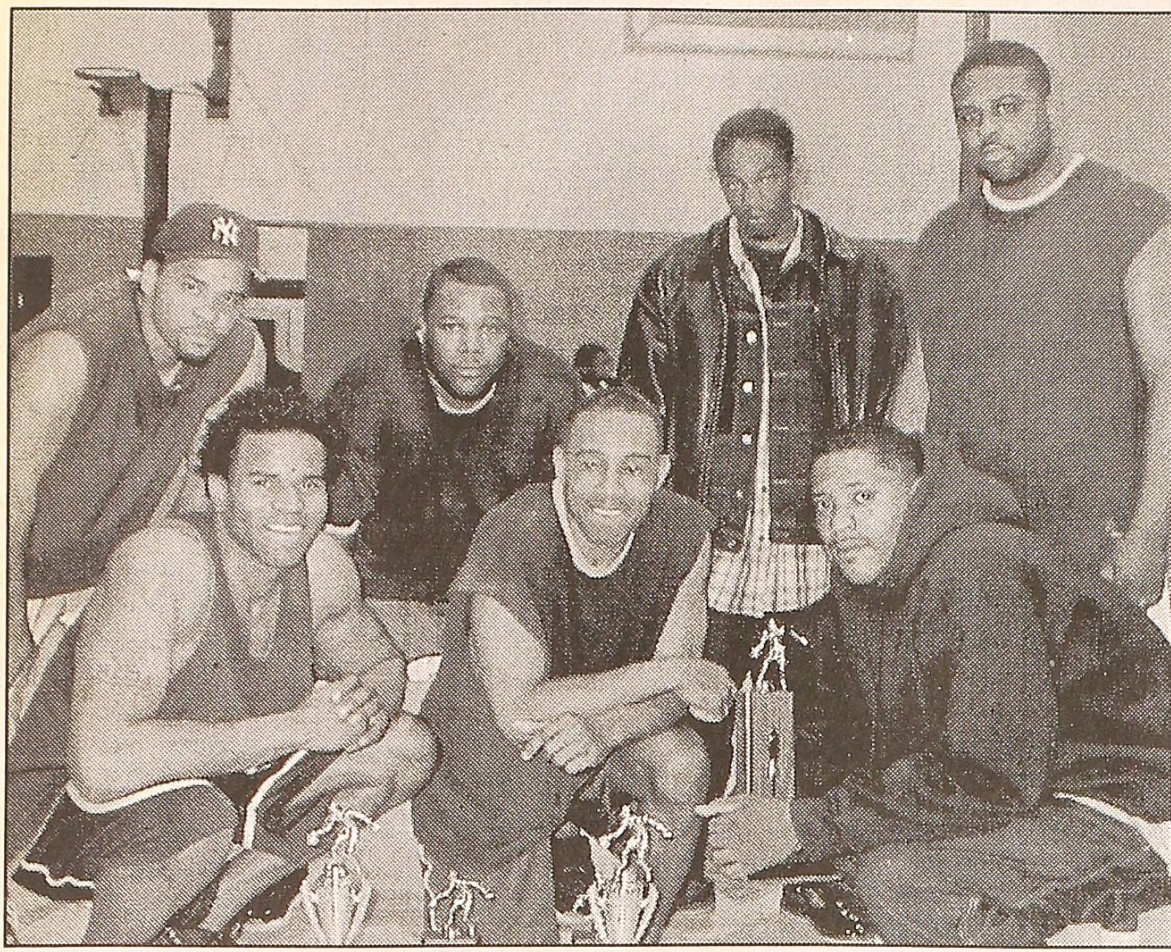

each checked in with two hits.

In their only other game of the week, Inkster was blanked by River Rouge, 18-0, as the Vikings managed to get only five hits.

Inkster had only one game scheduled for the week. The Vikings were to take on Dearborn Fordson Monday.

"In a season filled with challenges, these kids have never quit," said coach Orr. "We will be ready to compete next year."

Because of Michigan High School Athletic Association has banned Inkster from competing in post-season competition, the Vikings will end the 2001 campaign next week.

New hoop champs

Wayne edges Belleville by 5-strokes in Mega-Red

With Wayne Memorial's Amber Henn carding a meet low 46, Wayne edged Belleville, 210-215, in a Mega Conference, Red Division girls' golf meet.

Belleville responded with a pair of solid performances by Katie Hiser and Rachel VanAken, who checked in with 51, but coach John Gochsis' Tigers failed to overcome Wayne's overall depth.

The Tigers also counted a 55 from Ashley Post and a 58 by Gaylynn Johnson. Teammates Jacquelyn Tinsley finished with a 60, and Terri Mead chipped in a 70.

Wayne's second best score was a 51 by Becky Knight. Cindy Diehl and Christina Youmans shot 56 and 57, respectively, for the Zebras on the Belleville home course at Lake In The Woods. Kara Makino had a 62 and Kayla Slezak finished with a 66.

Wayne's across-the-board depth helped sink Dearborn, 218-223, in their Mega-Red duel at Warren Valley as Henn again showed the way. She toured the nine in 50. Slezak was only two strokes back in this one. Three Wayne golfers - Cindy Diehl, Becky Knight, and Lindsay Falow scored 58s. Christina Youmans had a 62.
